History of the school

In 2010 Sathyana, a young social student from Switzerland, fell in love with children in the streets of Bodhgaya and through them she could met their parents in one of the disadvantaged areas of the City. After a few month of teaching english to these children on a roof top, she decided with her friend and co-founder Anne to build a space for "after school classes". In that way, children could complete and deepen their knowledge and school-homework in a safe and quiet space, coached by caring responsible teachers. Thanks to the generosity of some close friends and parents, the school was build in a few month. They called the school "Jivans Children" meaning "the children of life".

After few years, the number of parents who wanted their kids to be part of the evening school was so important that the Trust collected funds in Switzerland and some volunteers came to build a bigger school in the village of Bagwanpur.

The school counts today around 90 students, from nursery class to class XII and 4 teachers. The Trust still support some kids that started the evening school 10 years ago even after class XII. Some are in College, one student is studying his last year to become an engineering, one is a dance teacher and gives free classes on saturday for the Trust, some girls are happily married and are mother now.

New Project of the School 2020

As the funds collected in 2016 to build the school are coming to an end, we would like to give a new life to the project. We want to create a sponsorship relation, between each school kids and a sponsor. The relation will consist on a written exchange, at least once every 3 months the sponsor will receive a letter from the kid they are sponsoring, a picture, a drawing, or anything the kids wants to share. Skype calls can also be organise. Once a year a celebration will be held in the school, with a performance program presented by the kids (dances, songs, food together...). All the sponsors who wants, are welcome to visit the kids at that time and meet their family.

The sponsor financial support starts from 10€ to 20€ per month as per your possibilities.

This funds will help to pay for the teachers and staff, to keep the evening-school, to buy copies and pen for the students, to pay for the college fees for the students after class XII...

If you would like to become a sponsor please let us know before end of March. Thank you for your help and attention.
